DAHLIAS

The Dahlias offered in this list were grown on my farm located on the Brownsville Road, Snowden Township, Allegheny County, 15 miles south of Pittsburgh, Pa. and 2½ miles west of Finleyville, Pa. I can recommend all of them as good garden Dahlias and a great many as good cut flower varieties.

One tuber planted in a hill makes the most satisfactory Dahlia plant. The tubers offered are divisions from clumps ready for planting. Cultural directions with each order.

SINGLE AND COLORETTE DAHLIAS

These showy Dahlias do not receive the attention they deserve from Dahlia lovers. I will send 12 kinds of my seedlings to any one interested with their order for $1.00 all different but not labeled.

For mass planting in beds, along walks or hedges I can furnish tubers at $7.00 per 100, 10 or 12 kinds in each 100. The color and height of plant will be given on wrapper of each kind. Advise your choice of colors which will be followed as close as possible.

I have selected about 50 varieties from my seedlings, all double Dahlias and nice colors, which are very free flowering and do not grow too tall, ideal plants for the garden. I offer these unnamed at 10c each and you may order up to 25 kinds. All will be different.

PERENNIALS, HARDY PLANTS

I receive many letters from my customers commending favorably on the quality of the plants sent out. I aim to please all my customers. My farm is too hilly for practical growing of hardy plants. I have decided to move this stock to a more suitable location. In order to lessen the expense of moving this stock I will make very liberal prices. My customers will help me greatly with liberal orders for IRIS and PERENNIALS. I will appreciate your co-operation and fill your orders very liberally.

IRIS GERMANICA OR FLAGS

These beautiful flowers are very hardy, easy of cultivation and will grow well in city gardens. The plants start growing early. For best results place your order early so we can ship when the frost is out of the ground.

In planting set the plant so the heavy root is just under the surface. The smaller roots should be spread out down in to the soil. Work fine dirt in between these roots and water to settle the ground. The upright petals are indicated by S. and the drooping petals by F. in the description.

IRIS KAEMPFERI OR JAPANESE IRIS

The color combinations and size of blooms make these flowers truly wonderful. Some kinds have six fully developed petals and are called double, while the single varieties have three petals. Japanese Iris bloom in June and July. The plants start late and may be transplanted until middle of May. The plants should be set deep enough so top of the root crown is one inch below the surface. The roots must be well spread and fine soil worked between them. Water thoroughly when planted and keep surface ground loose when soil becomes dry. Watering during the growing and blooming season is beneficial and will greatly improve the flowers. If you admire Iris be sure to plant some of these beautiful flowers. All varieties listed, with the exception of Purple and Gold, are my own originations and may be ordered by number. You will not get any better plants under a name and high prices from specialists.

GLADIOLAS

The varieties offered in this list cover the wide range of colors in this beautiful flower. My prices for this year are very low and you can make up your own collection of 25, 50, 100 or more at prices quoted if you select 3 or more of one kind. On all orders for one or two bulbs of a kind the single rate applies. The prices are for large bulbs 1¼ inch or larger. In some varieties we will run short in large bulbs and will send two medium size in place of one bulb ordered. These bulbs will give a good flower spike and make large bulbs for next season. If you do not desire medium size substituted please advise in your order. We have no surplus of large bulbs to sell at wholesale but can supply medium and small sizes of many varieties. If you need any of these sizes send your list with quantity of each kind desired for price.

My Gladiolus collection includes very choice and beautiful varieties just as nice as the high priced, much advertised novelties, which are yearly offered at prices impossible to the average lover of flowers.
